

An Interreg Upper Rhine Workshop

Organised by the CREGO lab (Université de Haute-Alsace)

New perspectives on consumer acceptability of the energy transition: a Franco-German theoretical conversation

November 29th, 2024, in Mulhouse - From 9 am to 4 pm

Scientific committee

Pr. Jörg Lindenmeier (Universität Freiburg), Dr. Daniel Sloat (Karlsruhe Institute of Technology), Pr. Françoise Simon (Université de Haute-Alsace)

Organizing committee

Joël Sangwa (Université de Haute-Alsace), Antoine Tournier (Université de Haute-Alsace)

Interreg

Cofinancé par
l'Union Européenne
Kofinanziert von der Europäischen

ASiMUTE
Association pour le Développement
Intelligent pour une Meilleure
Utilisation de l'Énergie

UNIVERSITÉ
HAUTE-ALSACE

crego

Rhin Supérieur | Oberrhein

universität freiburg

KIT
Karlsruhe Institute of Technology

dfiu

9.00 - 9.15 am

○ Introduction

Pr. Djaffar Ould-Abdeslam - ASIMUTE Project leader

9.15 - 10.00 am

■■■ Identifying the sources of legitimacy of ecological transition

Joël Sangwa - Université de Haute-Alsace

Françoise Simon - Université de Haute-Alsace

10.00 - 10.45 am

■■■ Assessing dimensions of energy security concerns and their relationship with energy transition support in France and Germany

Daniel Sloom - Karlsruhe Institute of Technology

Kristin Limbach - Karlsruhe Institute of Technology

Stephanie Stumpf - Karlsruhe Institute of Technology

11.15 am - 12.00 pm

■■■ The multiple mechanisms of compensatory consumption

Antoine Tournier - Université de Haute-Alsace

Françoise Simon - Université de Haute-Alsace

12.00 am - 1.30 pm

○ Lunch break

1.30 - 2.15 pm

■■■ Antecedents and Consequences of Energy Consumer Confusion: Results of a Preliminary Study

Maya Gebhard - Universität Freiburg

Jörg Lindenmeier - Universität Freiburg

2.15 - 3.00 pm

■■■ Tensions and value conflicts in the ecological transition

Antoine Tournier - Université de Haute-Alsace

Joël Sangwa - Université de Haute-Alsace

3.00 - 4.00 am

○ Franco-German dialog on future research avenues